An unwritten rule has it that one particular table in the House of Commons diningroom that may not be entered by strangers is reserved for members of the Government only. Usually every seat at it is occupied. Close to it is a table reserved, also by courtesy, for leaders of the Opposition, and another for leaders of the Irish party.

AUTOMOBILES IN JAPAN.

The automobile is growing in popularity in Japan, and is rapidly driving the picturesque "ricksha" to the wall in the more populous centers. A transportation company, using the latest style of American makes of gasoline cars, has been established in Tokio, and is reported to be doing a fine business. Its patronage is not derived from the foreign residents and tourists alone; in fact, the greater share of it comes from the more prosperous classes of Japanese. According to the published schedule, the rates per ton for hauling common goods varies from $2.50 for one mile to $11 for five miles, and for valuable goods from $5 for one mile to $25 for five miles. In rainy weather an extra charge of 20 per cent is made. Automobiles with a motorman and a porter may be rented for an eleven-hour day for $12, half a day for $6.50, and one hour for $1.50.—News Letter.
